

From Climate Science To Action:

Turn Down the Heat Series

A MOOC* by the World Bank Group in collaboration with Coursera

WORLD BANK GROUP

#learnclimate

Higher temperatures, changes in rain patterns, rising sea levels and more frequent natural disasters - climate change is a growing reality for millions of people.

This new Massive Open Online Course based on the World Bank's Turn Down the Heat report series presents the most recent scientific evidence on climate change, strategies for low emission and climate resilient development, and an overview of COP21 outcomes from Paris.

Learn From

- Interactive video interviews with climate scientists and practitioners
- A Google hangout with international climate experts
- A global discussion forum
- A final project and competition
- Climate change interactive tools

This course can be accessed by everyone for free

There is a fee of $5 if you choose the certificate option. You also have the option to apply for a financial aid in case you are unable to pay the fee.

Enroll now for the course, Starting May 9, 2016, at:
<https://www.coursera.org/course/warmerworld>

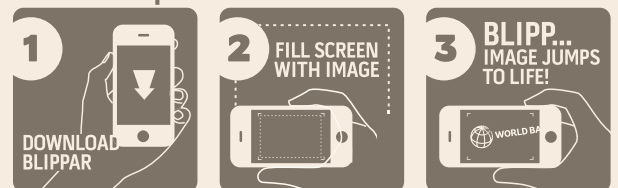

* Massive Open Online Course

Highlights

- Climate Change in the 21st Century
- Sectoral and Regional Impacts
- What Can We Do? Addressing Climate Change post-COP21
- Action-oriented Lessons
- A Climate Change Competition

Workload 3–6 hours/week

Scan this poster to unlock hidden content!

Brought to you by General Services

OLC Open Learning Campus

Powered by Coursera